CHAPTER XXX.

IT was a delightful morning in February. The Continental sloop Randolph, a tight little thirty-two gun frigate, the first to get to sea of those ordered by congress in 1775, was just leaving the beautiful harbor of Charleston. S. C., by way of the main ship channel on her maiden cruise, under the command of Captain John Seymour, late first Lieutenant of the Ranger. This was the second departure she had taken from that port. Forced by severe damages, incurred in an encounter with a heavy gale shortly after leaving Philadelphia, to put into that harbor for needed repairs to the new and untried vessel, she had put to sea again after a short interval and in one week had taken six valuable prizes, one of them, an armed vessel of twenty guns, after a short action. After this brief and brilliant excursion she had put back to Charleston to dispose of her prizes, re-collect her prize crews and land her prisoners.

There was another motive, however, for this sudden return. From one of the prizes it had been learned that the British thirty-two gun frigate Concord, the twenty gun sloop Perseus, the sixteen gun sloop Hindmarsh, with several privateers, had been sailing off the coast together, and the commander of the Randolph was most anxious to get the help of some of the South Carolina state cruisers to go in search of the British ships. The indomitable Governor Rutledge, whom the news had been communicated to him, had worked assiduously to secure the state ships, and the young captain of the Randolph speedily found himself at the head of a little fleet of war vessels outward bound.

The departure of the squadron, the Randolph in the lead, the rest following and all under full sail, made a pretty picture to the enthusiastic Carolinians, who watched them from the islands and fortifications in the harbor and from a number of small boats which accompanied the warships a short distance on their voyage. Besides Seymour's own vessel there were the eighteen gun ship General Moultrie, the two sixteen gun ships Notre Dame and Polly and the fourteen gun ship Fair American, the last commanded by a certain master, Philip Wilton. They made officers of very young men in those days, and mere boys often occupied positions of trust and responsibility apparently far beyond their years. Even Seymour himself, though now a commodore or flag officer by courtesy, was very young for the position, and Governor Rutledge, moved by a warm friendship of long standing for old Colonel Wilton and upon Seymour's own urgent recommendation, had entrusted the smallest vessel to young Captain Philip. We shall see how he showed himself worthy of the trust reposed in him in spite of his tender years.

Forward on the forecastle old Bentley was planted, surrounded by such of the older and more experienced petty officers and men as he permitted to as-cape to Charleston, he himself stood on with the little Randolph to engage the mighty stranger.

In a few moments the familiar tones of Bentley's powerful voice, seconded by the cheery calls of his mates, rang through the frigate:

"All hands clear ship for action! Ahoy!"

The piercing whistling of the pipes which followed was soon drowned by the steady and stirring roll of the drums, accompanied by the shrill notes of the fifes, beating to quarters.

BIG CALL FOR SPEAKERS

Indiana Republicans Want Lots of Oratory in This Campaign.

Indianapolis, July 16.—It is not very probable that Senator Fairbanks will spend much time this campaign making speeches in Indiana. His presence will be missed by the Republicans, as he has been one of their mainstays in former campaigns. But it is realized by the party leaders that he has a wider field to cover this time and therefore that they cannot reasonably expect so much from him. As the vice presidential nominee he will probably be sent for a tour of the country on a special train. Chairman C. C. Lyons of the speakers' bureau of the state committee said today that it is not very probable that a tour of the state on a special train will be arranged for him, but he will make a number of speeches in Indiana. It is very probable that he will open the campaign here before starting on his big swing around the circle. Lyons said there is already an enormous demand for speakers and that he has had a surprising number of calls for such men as Senator Fairbanks and Senator Beveridge, J. Frank Hanly, John L. Griffiths and others who have taken a very active part in the Republican campaigns. Lyons said it is very probable that the speaking campaign will be opened about the middle of September unless there is a change in the plans.

The old prejudice against Indianapolis is coming to the top since the talk of Harry S. New for the United States senate was started. It is conceded that New is one of the most popular men in the State and that he will be a factor in the race if he enters, yet there is already an undercurrent of protest because he resides in Indianapolis. One well known state politician who was here today remarked with fine sarcasm that New should have the place so that Indianapolis might be credited with the two senators and the vice president. His meaning was so obvious that no questions were necessary. It simply indicated that there is a feeling that if Indianapolis gets one of the senators and the vice president that it should be satisfied without attempting to "hog the whole thing." There is a movement now to instruct the Marion county members to vote for New, but it will probably not go through, as Addison C. Harris and John L. Griffiths, of this city, are also being considered as prospective candidates.

Arrangements are now being made for the third annual basket dinner of the Republican editors of Indiana at Broad Ripple park, near here. The date has not been definitely determined, but it will be either the 18th or 26th of August. These affairs have proved very enjoyable, and are looked forward to with much pleasure by those who are fortunate enough to receive invitations. They also have a political significance as many of the party leaders are represented. This time invitations will probably be extended to all the candidates on the state ticket as well as the state of officials and others in position of party leadership. The occasion is expected to prove one of the most enjoyable of the kind yet held.

A spirited fight is going on here for control of the Republican delegation to the next legislature. The county is entitled to three senators and seven members of the house, in addition to being joined with Hancock for a representative and with Morgan for a senator. Hence it is obvious that there should be a big contest for control, in view of the vacancy that will arise in the senate if Senator Fairbanks is elected vice president, and there is no telling what will happen in a convention of over 500 delegates and with many influences at work. The primaries will be held next Wednesday, and the convention on Thursday.

GETTING TO WORK

Guatemalan Ants Go Right After the Cotton Boll Weevil.

Washington, July 16.—O. F. Cook, the discoverer of the Guatemalan boll weevil-eating ants, has wired the department of agriculture from Texas that the new ants are destroying cotton boll worms and are attacking similar injurious insects with even greater avidity than they do the boll weevil. Another important fact is that the ants do not injure at all the ladybird larvae, which are beneficial insects.

Mr. Cook reports that the agricultural value of the ants now depends chiefly upon acclimation and rapidity of propagation. These matters are being investigated.

Where the Cost Comes In.

Brown—It costs me a pile of money for my boys to celebrate the Fourth of July.

Green—Fireworks expensive, eh?

Brown—Not at all; it's the arched sticking plaster, etc., that takes the money.

HARD TO FIND OUT

Reported Japanese Repulse at Port Arthur Still In Doubt.

CONFICTING RUMORS

St. Petersburg Claims to Have Confirmatory Reports While Tokio Utterly Discredits Story.

Affairs in the Far East Seem to Be Setting Down For Some Decisive Action.

Tokio, July 16.—The St. Petersburg story of a Japanese repulse with heavy casualties at Port Arthur July 10 is wholly discredited in Tokio, where no such reports have been received. It is believed that the story originated in Shanghai.

St. Petersburg, July 16.—The war office announces the receipt of a dispatch from Port Arthur confirming the report that the Japanese sustained considerable losses on July 11, the exact particulars of which have not yet been ascertained. According to the dispatch the Russians recaptured all the positions lately taken by the Japanese.

Shanghai, July 16.—A naval engagement took place Friday off Port Arthur.

Shanghai, July 16.—The Chicago Daily News dispatch boat Fawan has been seized by the Russians and towed into Port Arthur.

CAN'T ACCOUNT FOR IT

Russians Puzzled by Lack of Further News From Port Arthur.

St. Petersburg, July 16.—The lack of further official news regarding the engagement at Port Arthur on the night of July 10 is very puzzling. That the Japanese were heavily defeated is not doubted here, but in the absence of further information the extent of the disaster that befell them is beginning to be seriously questioned.

Definite news has been received from Viceroy Alexieff's headquarters at Mukden that the week before the engagement at Port Arthur, Major General Fock administered a severe defeat on July 4 and July 5, driving them from the heights that command Lusantian Pass, with a loss of 2,000. This is considered here as proof that there has been heavy fighting before the fortress of Port Arthur and as making the silence of Tokio regarding it all the more significant.

The Report Is Repeated.

St. Petersburg, July 16.—A special dispatch from Ta Tche Kiao dated July 14 repeats the account of the attempted storming of Port Arthur on July 10, and says that the Russians assumed the offensive and attacked with the bayonet. The Japanese retired in the wildest disorder. The Chinese estimate the Japanese losses at 22,000. The spirit of the Japanese, the dispatch says, is sinking as the result of the Port Arthur defeat.

Ta Tche Kiao Sticks to It.

Ta Tche Kiao, July 14.—(Delayed in transmission).—The latest reports regarding the storming of Port Arthur on July 10 place the Japanese losses in killed or wounded at 25,000 and those of the Russians at 5,500. The Japanese retired and the Russians occupied the position. The Japanese have now changed their frontal position and a big battle is expected at the eastern portion of the defenses owing to the Japanese turning movement.

All Quiet About Mukden.

Mukden, July 16.—All is quiet in the direction of the Russian left flank. The populace is following peaceful occupations and working in the fields. It seems certain that the Japanese right flank is weak. According to the Chinese the Japanese are making great preparations for the coming rains, which are due in earnest about July 31. The rains heretofore have been merely chance downpours.

The Czar Warmly Welcomed.

Tambov, Russia, July 16.—Emperor Nicholas arrived here yesterday and accepted bread and salt from a delegation representing the Jewish community. After service at the cathedral he reviewed the troops. On leaving Tambov his majesty was enthusiastically cheered by the people assembled in the streets.

No Figures Are Given.

St. Petersburg, July 16.—A Russian correspondent in the field repeats the story of a Japanese disaster at Port Arthur July 10, but does not add any details except the statement that after the repulse the Japanese fled in great disorder, pursued by the Russians.

Wisconsin Village Destroyed.

Ironwood, Wis., July 16.—The village of Kimball, including the Kimball & Clark mill, a large stock of lumber and nearly every building in the village was destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $75,000.

CONFIDENCE IS FIRM

Good Rest Its Being Looked for by the Business World.

New York, July 16.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade, industry and speculation give an irregular appearance to the general business situation. Distributive trades industry is still quiet and even dull, awaiting clearer views of the crop turnout. Damage to the winter wheat crop by heavy rains is admitted, though alleged to be exaggerated. Disorganization in the meat slaughtering industry has followed a strike which, if not settled, as now seems likely, contains much power for evil. All meat prices have been advanced and cattle shipments checked. Railway gross earnings for the fiscal year will show an increase over the best previous years, but net results are less clearly defined, with the question whether an increase or decrease will be shown, still in doubt. The general undertone is one of confidence, good results being looked for by the business world from an expected large volume of fall trade.

CAMERAS ARE BARRED

Judge Parker Tired of Having His Picture Taken.

Esopus, N. Y., July 16.—Judge Parker has drawn the line on the photographers. He announces that this will be the last day of promiscuous photographing of him and his family. "I reserve the right," he said laughingly, "to put my hands in my pockets and assume comfortable attitudes without being everlasting afraid that I shall be snapped by some fellow with a camera."

Esopus has been fairly overrun with photographers, who have haunted the judge's footsteps and have photographed not only himself, but everybody and everything connected with him or his daily life. Today a series of group pictures were taken of the judge and his family, quietly grouped on the lawn near the house.

Prisoners Make Their Escape.

Chillicothe, Ohio, July 16.—Immediately after religious services in the jail here yesterday afternoon, five prisoners escaped from the institution, but four of them were soon recaptured. As the Rev. Dr. Thompson was preparing to leave the building, William Woods, a colored prisoner, knocked him down and rushed out of the jail through the door which had been opened for the minister. He was followed by four of the prisoners, who were soon retaken.

Van Gorder Mystery Solved.

Belmont, N. Y., July 16.—The Van Gorder mystery has been solved by a complete confession made in open court by Pasquale Olive and Sabatino Pizzatti and confirmed by Giuseppe Versace, he being the second of the suspects to be tried. Georgia, the first man tried, was convicted.

According to the confession, the murderer of John E. Van Gorder and his half-sister, Anna Farnham, was committed by Giorgia and Versace.

Plumbers' Strike Ordered.

New York, July 16.—Strikes of the plumbers, gas-fitters and steam-fitters and helpers have been ordered on all the contracts of the New York general contractors in outside cities to force a system of exchange of cards with unions in outside cities. The buildings affected are in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Newark, Binghamton, Jersey City and Princeton.

Settled Without Bloodshed.

Paris, July 16.—A duel was fought by Francis DePressense, Socialist deputy, and Louis Lucienkotz, Radical deputy, the outcome of a violent dispute in the corridors of the chamber of deputies, last Wednesday, in the course of which violent epithets were used, such as "dog of a Jew" and "blackguard." Only two shots were fired and neither deputy was injured.

Loop-the-Loop Victim Dead.

Jamestown, N. Y., July 16.—Miss Ethel Boyd of Cleveland died last evening as the result of injuries received in an accident on the loop-the-loop at Colerain. Miss Irene Broadwell, also of Cleveland, another victim, is in a dying condition. The coroner and the district attorney have begun an investigation.

Fatal Loop-the-Loop Victim Dead.

Jamestown, N. Y., July 16.—Miss Ethel Boyd of Cleveland died last evening as the result of injuries received in an accident on the loop-the-loop at Colerain. Miss Irene Broadwell, also of Cleveland, another victim, is in a dying condition. The coroner and the district attorney have begun an investigation.

Harriman Scores One.

Trenton, N. J., July 16.—Judge Bradford, in the United States court, has granted a preliminary injunction in the suit brought by Edward H. Harriman, Winslow S. Pierce and others to restrain the proposed pro rata distribution of the assets of the Northern Securities company. This is a defeat for the Hill interests.

Fatal Hurt by a Stone.

Greensburg, Ind., July 16.—Edward Wilmer, employed in the Big Four improvement camp near this city, struck on the head with a stone hurt.

He was admitted to the hospital.

Edgar Frank Robinson of New York was killed and his pal, Harry Smith, was captured in Philadelphia while attempting to rob a home.

Train Robbers in Texas.

Oakwood, Tex., July 16.—An International & Great Northern passenger train was held up four miles from this point last night, the express car dynamited and Fireman Hiram Muse badly wounded.

Glass Works Will Resume.

Pittsburgh, July 16.—Eight of the largest window glass factories in the country will be placed in operation on Sept. 10 by the American Window Glass company.

Canal Zone Judge.

Washington, July 16.—Osceolo Kyle of Alabama has taken the oath of office as judge in the canal zone in Panama and will sail from New York next week.

Newfoundland's New Governor.

London, July 16.—King Edward has approved the appointment of Sir Wm. MacGregor to succeed Sir Cavendish Boyle as governor of Newfoundland.

AT A STANDSTILL

Negotiations Looking to the Settlement of Packers' Strike Interrupted.

NEITHER WILL GIVE IN

Both Sides to the Controversy Remain Firm In Their Original Determination.

While Both Are Anxious For Peaceable Settlement a Stumbling Block Is Encountered.

Chicago, July 16.—Negotiations for peace in the stockyards strike are practically at a standstill today and the strike will continue until one side or the other abates something of the demands up to the present time.

Both sides are anxious for a peaceful settlement, but the stumbling block to a final adjustment is that neither side is prepared to allow the other to dictate the basis of the arbitration.

The packers considered Mr. Donnelly's reply to their proposition Thursday night, but it proved unsatisfactory, and the union officials were notified that it would be impossible to reach an agreement along the lines suggested by Mr. Donnelly. In their answer to Mr. Donnelly the packers declared themselves willing to arbitrate, but stipulated that the arbitration should include the entire scope of the strike and not be subject to restrictions or limitations of any kind. This communication of the packers was identical with the one sent by them to Mr. Donnelly on Thursday, and to which his counter proposition was a reply. With the reply of the packers was sent a note to Mr. Donnelly notifying him that if he desired another conference with them they would be pleased to meet

LISTEN TO SECRETARY HAY.

"If there is one thing more than another in which we Republicans are entitled to a legitimate pride," said Secretary Hay at Jackson, Michigan, "it is that Lincoln was our first president; that we believed in him, loyally supported him while he lived, and that we have never lost the right to call ourselves his followers." This is true, and it is a vital truth, for, as Mr. Hay says in addition, "there is not a principle avowed by the Republican party today which is out of harmony with his teachings or inconsistent with his character." Republicans have a natural and a reasonable pride in this thought. The one thing more than all else that enabled Abraham Lincoln to meet the tremendous responsibilities that he was called upon to face, was the faculty cultivated by the assiduous habit of looking at things not as he wanted to see them, but as they are. For instance, when war seemed inevitable and a number of enthusiastic Northerners asserted with some degree of confidence that one Northern could whip three Southerners. Lincoln said no. "You are likely to find," said he "that man for man, one Southerner will be a match for one Northerner." And all his plans were based upon this assumption—this same belief. Of course he desired to believe in the overwhelming superiority of his own supporters, but he was not to be misled by his preconceptions. So today, while the hosts that believe in the Republican party would like to see the millennium as much as the most enthusiastic theorist, and while they pray for the reign of the Prince of Peace as zealously as the most sanguine optimist, yet they realize that this is a world of human beings all with a great deal of human nature in them and that, whatever we may pray for, we must work with the facts as they are—work with this imperfect human nature as the material out of which all government is made, and that actual work and actual deeds must supplement our prayers and our faith. The Republican party recognizes the plausibility of free trade or its twin sister, a tariff for revenue; it recognizes the beauty of a belief in the universal brotherhood of nations included in the thought of the universal brotherhood of man, and while the mind enjoys the atmosphere of cloudland at the same time the Republican party keeps its feet upon the earth where the problems of human government must be worked out if the government is to be fitted to human beings with human instincts, human passions and human caprices as well as human reason as the motive power in all our activities.

The state bar association appointed a committee to meet a committee of the bankers' association and draft a law to regulate private banks. Such a law is needed in Indiana.

There is report of another naval engagement off Port Arthur. Does any one remember just how many times that battle has been reported in progress?

"LET me alone," shouted Sheehan, "I'm half crazy." This was just after he received the telegram from the "Sage of Esopus." It seems that Mr. Sheehan had no monopoly of this experience. Everybody else in the convention seems to have been in a similar condition of mind. It was a characteristic wind-up of a characteristic convention.

Assuming that the democratic platform means anything that it says, then if the party unfortunately were to be voted into power, we should have what they call "a gradual reduction of the tariff schedule." Leader John Sharp Williams in Congress declared that this gradual reduction was to be constantly in the direction of free trade. So here we should have a perpetual tinkering that would leave the business of the country in a constant state of uncertainty, the one thing most of all injurious to business. The democratic party tinkered with the tariff when they went into power in 1893. The people know the result. Do the business men, do the farmers, or do the laboring men want their experience of those years repeated? Not that anybody knows of.

B. H. Hill, whom the supporters of Bryan had had under suspicion since 1896, is very much gratified. Or, at least he said so before a bomb in the shape of the Parker telegram was exploded in the convention, but a significant remark he made concerning the matter was a confession that probably he did not intend to make. For instance he says: "Each state was allowed to put in nomination its favorite son, as we had planned." Who? Who? What is meant by "we"? Who had planned? And how "allowed"? Who allowed them? Mr. Hill or Mr. Belmont or Mr. Rothschild or Wall street? Was it the millionaires or the political bosses, or both? What does he mean by "allowed," and who was it so considerate as to permit the states to nominate anyone they saw fit? It would be interesting to have an explicit answer to this question. But it does seem to us that the remark is significant in view of the charges that are openly made not only by Bryan and others in the convention, that the reorganizers were simply so many agents of an unscrupulous money power.

SEYMOUR TO BE EXPLOITED

Republican Will Issue Handsomely Illustrated Publication of

SEYMOUR AND HER INDUSTRIES.

In order to secure for Seymour an official illustrated prospectus of her industries which can be sent out in response to inquiries and to serve as a compendium of the industrial, social and political status of the city, the REPUBLICAN has succeeded in making arrangements with Mr. J. W. Kenney for the publication of the work.

The need of such a publication is one that has been long felt in Seymour and the edition comes upon the request of business men who feel that an exposition of our industries, illustrated and printed in book of permanent form will be of immeasurable benefit and a source of pride to our city.

The publication will be printed on book paper and abundantly illustrated with halftones. It will contain street scenes, views of public buildings, schools and churches, portraits of the prominent citizens of Seymour and several of the handsome residences of the city.

The invincible arguments of Seymour as a site for industry will be knit together in forcible English, showing the advantages of Seymour to the capitalist and to the laborer, while the city's progress along economic and social lines will be clearly outlined.

The REPUBLICAN has been fortunate in securing Mr. Kenney whose experience in the field of journalism and illustrating especially equip him for the work.

The next week or ten days will be spent by Mr. Kenney in taking photographs and preparing data before beginning to compile the detailed information as to business houses.

"AFTER studying over that platform for eighteen hours, Parker evidently decided that silence is not golden," said Thos. R. Shipp, secretary to Senator Beveridge, as his contribution to the little game of guessing why Parker sent that telegram.

The Scotsburg Democrat appears this week as an eight page all home print paper. It shows a decided improvement in appearance and style. We congratulate the publisher and hope his enterprise will be abundantly rewarded by increased patronage.

In an address at Ft. Wayne the president of the state bar association advocates the repeal of all laws on divorce. He would make a legal separation of man and wife impossible. His theory may be all right but there are some mercenary lawyers who will not agree with him. Their fees in such cases amount to considerable.

THE Portland Sun is the leading democratic paper in Jay county. Wm. W. Timmonds, the editor, who is a man of convictions and influence in his county, says: "Alton B. Parker, of New York, was nominated at St. Louis. The Cleveland reorganizers are now in the saddle of the democratic party, and with Wall street and the monied interests of the east at their backs they hope to win. What good can come to the common people? I predict Indiana will give Roosevelt 75,000 plurality. In Jay county the plurality will be 500 against the Cleveland reorganizers."

ASSUMING that the democratic platform means anything that it says, then if the party unfortunately were to be voted into power, we should have what they call "a gradual reduction of the tariff schedule." Leader John Sharp Williams in Congress declared that this gradual reduction was to be constantly in the direction of free trade. It would be interesting to have an explicit answer to this question. But it does seem to us that the remark is significant in view of the charges that are openly made not only by Bryan and others in the convention, that the reorganizers were simply so many agents of an unscrupulous money power.

$75 AND A CLOCK

Was the Price Once Paid for the Land Where Columbus Now Is.

Mrs. Nancy E. Metcalf, of Kansas City, Mo., who was in Columbus Friday tells an interesting story of how her grandmother had once owned the present site of Columbus. She says her great-grand-parents had settled on the land here and had left it to their daughter, Mrs. Margaret Bruce Wilson, both of whom are now dead. Mrs. Wilson was living in Scott county, when the husband of her niece, a Mr. McFarland, approached her concerning selling this land, now the site of Columbus.

She had not visited the land for some years and it had never given her any profit, so being tired of paying taxes on it, she sold it to McFarland for $75 and a large clock.

This site now to this year's assessment, is valued at $5,488,305.

Mrs. Metcalf's visit here Friday was for the purpose of securing evidence that her husband, John S. Metcalf, was lieutenant and for a month captain of a company in the 115th Regt., Ind. Vol.

Mrs. Metcalf is now operating a millinery store at Blotcher, Ind., but she claims her home is at Kansas City. —Columbus Times.

BEDS FOR THE VETERANS.

All Soldiers Who go to Boston Will be Cared for.

As an inducement to attend the national encampment of the G. A. R. at Boston, beginning Aug. 13, veterans have been assured by J. G. Gilman of Boston chairman of the committee on arrangements, that they will be furnished free lodgings during their stay in Boston.

In a letter to D. R. Lucas, department commander of Indiana, Mr. Gilman declared that 10,000 cots will be placed in Mechanics' building on Huntington avenue. "If that will not suffice we will rent other halls," he says. "Every veteran will be given free lodging who makes application."

A railroad rate of 1 cent a mile for the round trip has been secured from all points in Indiana. From Indianapolis the round trip fare will be $1.20. The Big Four has been selected as the official route for the department of Indiana, G. A. R. and the women's relief corps. A special train will leave Indianapolis at 3 p.m. on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 13, and will arrive in Boston Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

SENATOR FAIRBANKS has returned to Indianapolis from Oyster Bay where he was called for a conference with President Roosevelt.

Two nominees for the same office, in the same district, at the same time, make the democrats of the 42nd judicial district very uneasy. Swails for prosecutor and Voyles for prosecutor were the result of the double-header convention at Orleans. The peace-makers are now trying to bring order out of disorder and each of the nominees is in favor of peace if the other fellow will surrender and get off the track.

Swails claims that his faction was regular and Voyles says his convention was the real thing. Swails wants the office and Voyles wants it just as badly as Swails. Both are democrats. Each will appeal to the state committee and if the state committee takes a hand one or the other will be mad over the result. In the meantime democrats over the district are taking sides and lining up for a scrap. The best way to settle this trouble is to turn both nominees down and elect a republican.

Wheat threshing in this part of Indiana has been pushed rapidly the past three days and if the weather remains favorable for another week most of the wheat in this county will be threshed.

One Lady's Recommendation Sold Fifty Boxes of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets.

I have, I believe, sold fifty boxes of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets on the recommendation of one lady here, who first bought a box of them about a year ago. She never tires of telling her neighbors and friends about the good qualities of these tablets.—P. M. SHORE, Druggist, Rochester, Ind. ## SCHOOL MONEY.

More Than One Million Dollars to Be Divided.

The apportionment of the common school revenue for tuition, which has been completed by State Superintendent F. A. Cotton, shows that there will be divided among the counties of the state for school expenses during the next six months $1,168,370.80, with a balance remaining in treasury for a reserve fund of $24,112.40.

The number of school children in the state between the ages of six and twenty-one, on which the apportionment is based, is 768,665. The amount derived from the state school tax is $998,001.01, and the interest collected on the common school fund since the apportionment, $102,441.87. The amount derived from unclaimed fees and all other sources is $2,040.32. The per capita apportionment is $1.52.

Pesky Pinching Bug

T. S. Blish took a party of friends out for a ride in his automobile last evening. While climbing a grade on the Ebenezer road the machine "went dead." Mr. Blish worked with it for a while but still it refused to move. Finally he threw off his coat and went at that machine with a set of new tools determined to find what was the matter. Finally he located the trouble. A pesky, pertinacious pinching bug had deliberately and designately crawled into the intake valve, thereby shutting off the automobile's wind. This removed the machine got air and moved on without further trouble.

Meetings Resume Monday.

Rev. G. M. Lehigh who was called away from special meetings in the Baptist church last week, to the bedside of his dying mother who has since been laid to rest, will resume the meetings on Monday at 7:30 p.m. His sermons, it has been found, have increased in force and fervency since his splendid campaign here a year and a half ago, and those who attend upon his preaching do themselves lasting favor. He can be here now only a week.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

Ex-Conductor Chas. Bishop was here today and yesterday calling on the railroad boys.

J. H. Chastine, the bridge carpenter who was fatally injured by being struck by a Southern Indiana train Wednesday, died at Bedford, never regaining consciousness after the accident. He was fifty years of age and leaves a widow and family survive.

John G. Walbur, assistant manager of the B. & O. Southwestern, appeared before the state tax board and asked that the rate made on the road last year through Indiana not be changed.

He said that the tax rates were abnormally high in the southern part of the state and this tended to overcome any increase in valuation. The road, he said, showed an increase in gross and net receipts.

The Starbuck Mystery Has Developed a New Phase.

Greensboro, Ind., July 16.—Greensboro people are more at sea over the mystery surrounding the death of Mrs. William Starbuck and her baby last Saturday night than at any time since the tragedy became known.

The report that Coroner Wright says he will render a verdict of suicide unless the officers quickly produce evidence that will change his mind, has created consternation among the officers and detectives who are hunting down the supposed murderer or murderers.

Many people, however, do not believe that the theory of the coroner is correct. Sheriff Christopher and Detective Curry, who have been working night and day on the mystery, say they do not believe that the woman first killed her child and then jumped into the well. They say that they have evidence which will conclusively show that the woman could not possibly have received the wounds which were found upon her face in any other way than at the hands of some assailant.

The accepted theory of a large portion of the people is that Mrs. Starbuck was seized with a sudden attack of puerperal insanity, which either caused a homicidal desire, or gave her the hallucination that some monster was after her child. She ran to the telephone to call for help; then she dropped the receiver, threw open the window, tore the mosquito bar from it, and, imagining she saw this monster, or perhaps a man outside, turned back, caught up her child, ran out of the south door and made for the old well, the first place that came to her frenzied mind, darted through the gates, and when she reached the well threw in the child and jumped in after it, and that her shrieks and screams were caused because she imagined this monster that she raved about had followed her.
